LOOK BACK:

Point: Life is short; invest in eternity; invest in people!

- What did you change this week to invest in eternity?

Question: Share about a situation where you were made to feel unwelcome or unworthy. How did you respond? Was the situation ever rectified?

LOOK UP: Watch this week’s video on the 4G web page.

Recap: As we begin our “All In” series, our first “In” is “Invited.” Throughout the ministry of Jesus, we see that all peoples are invited, including the outcasts, the broken, the rejected, and the desperate. We see prostitutes, blue-collar workers, tax collectors, rich rulers, and even the religious elite. All are invited, but not all accept the invitation.

This requires a two-fold introspection. First, no matter where you view yourself on the worthy-or-deserving spectrum, you are invited. Will you accept the invitation? Second, if you have accepted the invitation, who are you inviting?

The Calvary Mission Statement

We point people to Jesus by

*DEMONSTRATING God’s Love, DECLARING the Good News,
And Making DISCIPLES Near and Far.*

LOOK IN: Discussion

- Using the Bible, a dictionary, and your own experience, define the three-D’s (Demonstrate, Declare, Disciple). (Helpful verses: Matthew 22:37-40; Matthew 28:18-20; 2 Corinthians 5:17-20)
- Make lists of how to practically implement each of the 3-Ds.

LOOK FORWARD: Application

Point: All are invited. Invite someone.

Fishing For Hungry Fish

The simplicity of the 3-D mission:

- Demonstrating God’s love is intentionally being the hands and feet of Jesus to others, both inside the family (a.k.a. Fellowship) and outside the family (a.k.a. Outreach).
- Declaring the good news is telling them why, by sharing what God has done for us and what He can do for them.
- Making Disciples near and far is teaching them how to demonstrate God’s love, declare the good news, and make disciples near and far.

Be specific, what will you do this week to demonstrate God’s love?

What will you say to declare the good news? (cbcfamily.net/go2)

Who will you invite to join you? Who will you disciple?
